RESUME

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF ARMSTRONG TOWN-SHIP HIGH SCHOOL ARMSTRONG, ILL.

1936

Foreword . .

We, the members of the Senior Class, hereby present for your approval a book of ideals, of progress, and of achievements. We hope that it will hold for you a storehouse of pleasant memories, by which you may keep the dear friends and the splendid association of your High School days. It is with pleasure that we introduce to you the 1936 Resumé, trusting that you will treasure it as one of your dearest possessions.

Dedication

LOUISE NICHOLS

We, the Senior Class of '36, gratefully dedicate this copy of the Resumé to

Miss Louise Nichols, whose leadership and encouragement have made the publication of this annual possible.

ACADEMIC . . .

In the past few years there has come a decided increase in interest in current affairs and problems, both domestic and foreign. Because of the necessity for a knowledge of such affairs the history department is formulating a curriculum whereby current events are made the center of interest, with formal history used as background material for the purpose of building a better understanding of present trends in economic, political, and social fields.

As a step toward the better understanding of the political field, the Senior Civics Class in March observed the Illinois legislature in session. They were formally presented to the House of Representatives by Representative Hugh Luckey of Vermilion County.

. . PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education, both for boys and girls, became an important part in the A.T.H.S. curriculum during the year 1935-1936.

Under the instruction of Mrs. Lindgren, the girls organized teams for kitten-ball, volley-ball, and calisthenics. Plans were also made late in the school year for a Girls' Athletic Association. On March 10 the G.A.A. entertained the faculty with a supper and party in the school gymnasium.

The aim of the physical education courses is "a sound mind in a sound body."

VOCATIONAL ARTS...

The Agricultural Department is organized under the Smith-Hughes Law whereby financial aid is obtained from the Federal and State governments for the work.

The Smith-Hughes Law specifies Vocational training. This means that not only must the class-room work be decidedly practical and applicable to good farm management, but it also requires that a good part of the instruction must be out on the farms. For this reason actual farm projects in connection with the course being taken in school must be carried out by each boy in class. In addition, there is a goodly number of periods used for the judging of livestock and grains as well as visiting various farms to study current farm practices.

... COMMERCIAL

"What is everybody's business is nobody's business." An old adage, but one that does not fit the A.T.H.S. Commercial Department. It is the business of this department to offer high school students an opportunity to prepare themselves for good citizenship; to encourage them to think about their future welfare; to stimulate individual growth in business skills and business information that will better enable them to go about this business called life, which is surely somebody's business.

This year the department offered courses in Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, General Business Training, Beginning Typewriting, and Advanced Typewriting.

The members of the advanced class have successfully published The Comet semi-monthly.

The typing students are all looking forward to the spring contests in which they hope to give the other schools some good stiff competition.

HOME ECONOMICS..

To prepare for home-making is the objective set forth in the home economics classes.

The clothing class of eighteen freshman girls has studied the following units of work: budgeting, family relationship, design, color, personal care, study of textiles, and construction of garments.

A fashion show in the spring always marks the climax for the work done by the girls.

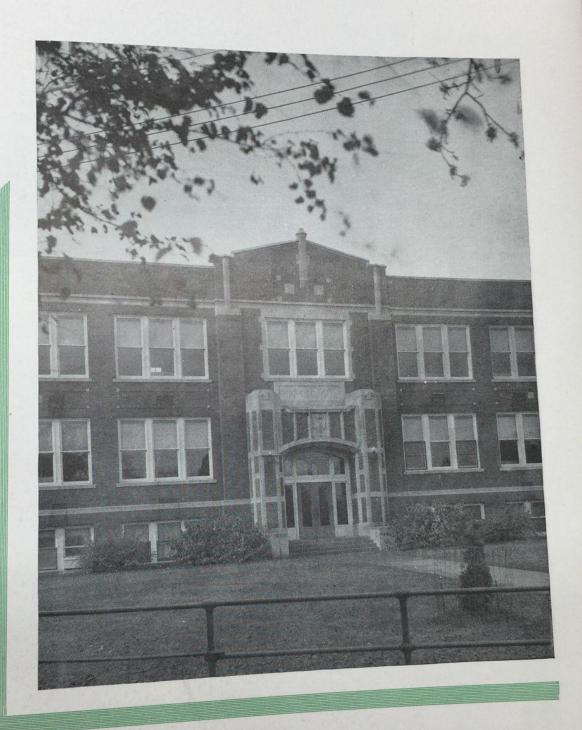

The various phases of work studied in foods class are: preservation of foods, food facts and nutrition, marketing, foods for breakfast, luncheon and dinner, table service, meal planning, food for the sick, food for children and the cookery of foods.

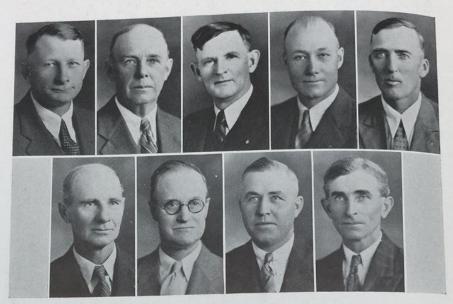

Each girl is hostess to a luncheon or dinner during the last six weeks of the year's work.

The Athletic banquet on March seventeenth was served by the foods class.

Senior Annals

In the fall of 1932, 52 Freshmen enrolled in Armstrong High School. In the fall a wiener roast was given by the upper classmen. Class officers were: President, Wilson Creighton; Vice-President, Billy Fowler; Secretary-Treasurer, Helen Rickart; Charles Heuer; Sponsor, Mrs. Anderson.

Forty-nine enrolled in the fall of 1933 as Sophomores. Miss Orr was elected Sponsor; Robert Davis, president; Charles Heuer, Vice-President; Doris Ray, secretary; and Theodore Vinson, treasurer. The outstanding event of the Sophomore year was the Hallowe'en party which was given for the rest of the school.

In 1934, the enrollment was greatly reduced. Mr. Bowen was elected sponsor; Billy Fowler, president; Helen Rickart, vice-president; and Helen Creighton, secretary-treasurer. At the end of the first semester the class president moved away and Helen Rickart was elected to take his place as president. Arthur Jackson was elected vice-president. Junior class activities included the Junior-Senior banquet in the spring, the play, "The Ghost Parade", presented on Nov. 9 and 10 and coached by Miss Nichols.

At the beginning of the Senior year there were seven new members: Clinton Funkhouser, Clara Harms, Harold Kirk, Evelyn Johnson, Dorothy Shumate, Francis Adams, and Dan Parker. The class officers chosen were: Billy Johnson, president; Lois Blackford, vice-president; secretary, Evangeline Berry; treasurer, Theodore Vinson; sponsor, Miss Nichols. Dallis Holt, a member of the class for three years, moved to Henning. On March 15, 1936, Melvin Edenburn passed away. Though the enrollment at the beginning of the school promised an unusually large graduating class of thirty-eight, the final number was thirty-three. The play, "Once in a Lifetime", was given May 22 and 23. Baccalaureate services were held in the Armstrong M. E. Church, May 24, followed by Commencement on May 28, with Dr. A. F. Ewert, of Danville, as the speaker.

Last Will and Testament

We, the members of the Senior Class of A.T.H.S., being of sound mind and memory, do make, ordain public and declare this to be our last will and testament to be executed immediately after publication of "The Resumé."

To our dear faculty we do will and bequeath our gratitude for all the benefits and favors we have so unappreciatively received. We sincerely hope that we shall be able to fulfill the high ideals that they have always held before us.

To our janitor, Mr. Wallace, and the bus drivers we do will our grateful thanks and lasting friendship.

To the Juniors we do bequeath our knowledge of ability to "bluff" the teachers.

To the Sophomores we will our sweet and lovable disposition.

To the Freshmen we will our wonderfully developed brains.

In remembrance of the many happy hours we have spent with the under-classmen, we wish to make the following individual bequests:

- I, Margaret Bass, bequeath my ability as editor-in-chief of "The Comet" to LeRoy Ellett.
- I, Louise Carlson, will my talent to play the bass viol to Van Ludwig.
- I, Martha Cox, bequeath my dates to Verna Mae Wolfe.
- I, Violet Gritton, will my success in love to Alice Burton.
- I, Helen Rickart, will my quietness to Edna Firebaugh.
- I, Mary Leonard, will my fun-loving nature to Marjorie Corbley.
- I, Lois Blackford, will my musical talent to Buford Parks.
- I, Evangeline Berry, bequeath my giggles to Mildred Edenburn.
- I, Helen Creighton, will my studious habits to Dick Ludwig.
- I, Clara Harms, will my love for Latin to Ralph Schoolcraft.
- I, Oliver Shumate, will my "gift of gab" to Clara Foster.

"We Peer Into the Future"

During the summer of 1946, I started on a flight over the United States. I boarded an airplane at New York City, after having shopped in Mademoiselle Margueretta Bass' French Modiste Shoppe. To my astonishment I found Oliver Shumate the pilot of the large passenger plane, the "Blue Dragon".

After becoming accustomed to my surroundings, I noticed a young couple in a secluded corner, my old classmates, at A.T.H.S. in 1336, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Carder (Louise Carlson). While at lunch I noticed two very attractive stewardesses, who proved to be Berneda Goodwine and Lorena Carl.

My first stop was Pittsburgh. On arriving I saw a large sign above the Orpheum Theatre which read, "Harms and Berry, the famous dancers"; of course, this meant Clara Harms and Evangeline Berry of Armstrong.

On coming to Chicago I met Robert (Bob) Davis on Michigan Avenue. He is proprietor of the great Wise Hotel down in the Loop. Of course, I remained at the Wise Hotel during my stay in Chicago. While here I visited Eva Carl's millinery shop.

My next stop was Kansas City. Here I visited the large livestock farm owned by Billy Johnson and Lester Booher, who have gone into partnership in raising ducks and guinea pigs.

I journeyed on to Denver, Colorado, where I visited the well known Morris-Williams sanitarium, owned and operated by Mary Morris and Lorraine Williams. Here we met Dr. Roscoe Jennings, supervisor of this sanitarium. Helen Rickart, who graduated from Lake View Hospital, Danville, in the class of '40, is now the head dietician.

Feeling my lack of time, I made a long flight from Denver to Salt Lake City. There I met Theodore Vinson from the Agricultural Department of the University of Illinois. He was making his annual western trip.

I visited the Parker X Ranch near Reno, Nevada. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Parker, the latter formerly Miss Helen Creighton, were living a quiet, contented, country life. Clinton Funkhouser, an old rival, was one of the many tented, country life. Mr. Francis Adams, attorney-at-law, has set-cowpunchers on this ranch. Mr. Francis Adams, attorney-at-law, has settled all divorce cases in the city of Reno for the last five years. Louise Redman is his private secretary.

CLASS OF 1918

From A.H.S. with honors written
Just eighteen years ago,
We all left there for our future,
Which seemed shining and aglow.

Some of us went on to college,
Others to the soil were called,
Others soon became school teachers,
There was something for us all.

Of the school days, we remember
All the fun, the joy, and rules,
But we all hold dear and tender
Memories of our years in school.

In behalf of the Class of 1918 I wish to express my sincere wish that Armstrong High School continues to be the same splendid school that we all cherish in our memories.

-Maude G. Juvinall '18.

CLASS OF 1922

What has Armstrong Township High School meant to me? When I was graduated I would have said "Everything." I knew so certainly then that there would never be friendships or experiences in work or play equal to those that I had in high school. But in the years since graduation those four years have become a part of a "foundation", composed of twelve years of school, home training and church training on which I am trying to build a "building" which will be my life.

—Alta K. Miller '22.

CLASS OF 1923

I wish that I might put into writing my sincere regard for the High School at Armstrong. My association with the student body and teachers during my four years there shall never be forgotten and is among my fondest memories. They were very pleasant and profitable years, fitting me for a position immediately upon graduating in 1923. Without additional training they proved very much worth while to me as a young graduate. After being away thirteen years I am always anxious to return to the strange faces, enjoy the visit with old friends very much and feel it is still "my" school.

—MARGARET D. McGlaughlin '23.

CLASS OF 1924

Armstrong High School has been a stepping stone which has helped me to prepare for my work of teaching. But the real value of forming friendships and dear memories can never be measured, for as years go by they increase.

-Olga B. Juvinall '24.

CLASS OF 1926

I cannot express by mere words all that my Alma Mater has meant to me, but among the things that I feel have been acquired from high school are the attainment of high ideals, the ability to use intellect on civic, community and social affairs, and the desire for better things for the community and for self.

-Mrs. Lowell Creighton '26.

CLASS OF 1927

To me the name Armstrong High School is symbolic of an educational opportunity that was given to my classmates and myself during our early teen years through the combined efforts of our teachers, parents, and community. It was an ideal opportunity for us, who were living in a rural community, as its curriculum fitted our needs. Attention was paid to our various interests outside of the classroom also, whether they were musical, literary, social, or athletic. As a result of the careful guidance in both curricular and extra-curricular activities, I believe that all of us who graduated with the class of '27 from Armstrong High have been made better citizens of our respective communities.

CLASS OF 1928

To me Armstrong High School has meant two things: first, a clean To me Armstrong High Schot most of my hours for four years; here educational center, in which I spent most of my hours for four years; here educational center, in which I spend social life with congenial schoolmates I fully enjoyed the classes, music and social life with congenial schoolmates I fully enjoyed the classes, must come High School has meant a stepping and pleasant instructors. Armstrong High School has meant a stepping which I have chosen for myself and pleasant instructions and pleasant instruction which I have chosen for myself. -ROBERTA BOOHER '28.

CLASS OF 1929

We, the class of 1929, have not forgotten the happy days spent at A.T.H.S., and shall always cherish its memory in our hearts.

Though we seem to have drifted apart, there is still, and always will be, that memory of true friendship that bound us together.

Through the interest, consideration, and untiring efforts of our teachers, and especially our Principal, Mr. Laurence, we were inspired to greater heights of achievement.

-MILDRED EDWARDS '29.

CLASS OF 1931

It is not hard to find words to express my appreciation for my four years at A.T.H.S. Just this afternoon I looked through my photograph book, many snapshots of which are from A.T.H.S.

The things I remember most easily are my outside activities: athletics come first, specifically baseball, and Coach Chiles, "Swede" Selsor, "Bub" Hopkins, and all the other fellows. Second, I would choose glee clubs and plays, especially since in 1931 we did not lose a music contest. I could write page after page about Junior-Senior banquets, wiener roasts and other social functions, if space would permit.

I have a warm spot in my heart for Armstrong. I think of those days often and they are dear to me. I wish I could attend more Alumni banquets.

My days at Armstrong High School have taught me to meet the public square shouldered, to be able to meet strangers, how to weigh my words in a conversation, how to take defeat and victory. If anyone is in doubt as without it, for if you get out of high school training all there is for you, it really just the beginning of your life, and will have a big influence on your career and life.

-Wendell Snyder '33.

WE PEER INTO THE FUTURE

My next "hop" brought me to Los Angeles. Martha Cox is happily married to one of the richest gold miners in California.

Lois Blackford, who is now in Hollywood, has the leading role in "Broadway Melody of 1946." Mary Leonard, Marie Williams and Leatha Bloomer are also in the cast. Howard Hardin is directing this famous production. Upon visiting the University of California, I found that Evelyn Johnson had graduated and had taught two years, but had forsaken teaching for keeping house. Violet Gritton has charge of the Hollywood Department of Health, although she is still engaged to Don, the Danville butcher.

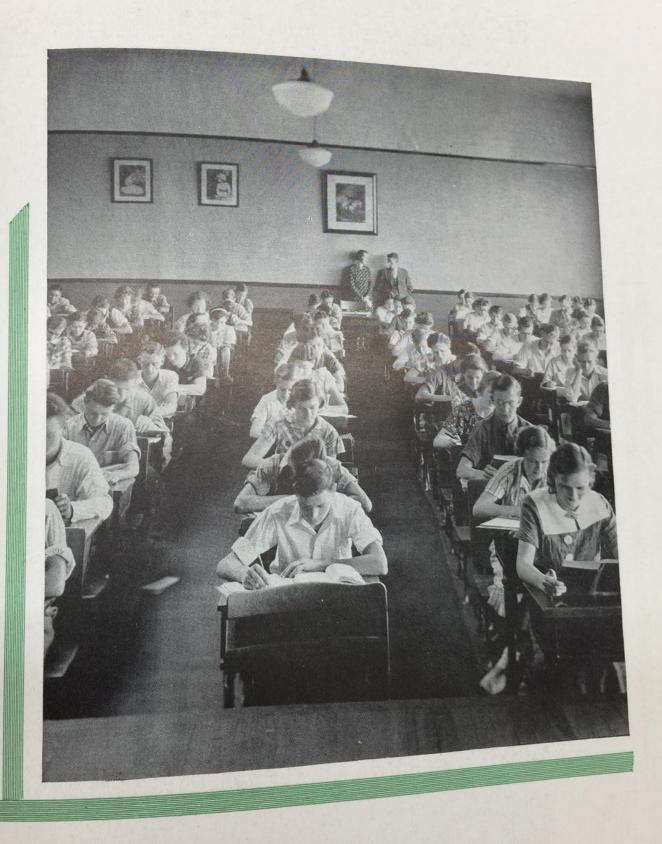

Carl Francis is proprietor of a large tourist resort near the Pacific coast, where the movie actresses spend their vacations. Loren Berry is employed here as life-guard. He proves to be very popular among the actresses.

I have certainly enjoyed my flight, and I am very happy to find that my classmates are so successful in life.

. . . Junior Play

The Junior class presented "The Folks Next Door" to capacity crowds on the nights of November 8 and 9.

It was a delightful domestic comedy involving the difficulties encountered by families, the Stivers and the Hobsons, in further cementing their friendship by marrying their oldest son and daughter. A series of misunderstandings almost wrecks this lifelong friendship and nearly breaks up the romance, but all comedies must have a happy ending, nor is this the exception.

The cast follows:

Sam Hobson-Aaron Metz. Willard Stiver-Edgar Fletcher. Ellen Hobson—Alice Burton. Sarah Stiver—Katherine Gwin. Byron Laugley-Lawrence Crist. Almira Gudgeon-Frances Carlson. Zelda Hobson-Mary Hand. Roy Stiver-Gordon Parsons. Cleva Stiver-Doris Fuller. Donald Hobson—Richard Ludwig. Lola Ellington—Thelma Decker. Elwood Granger-Wilson Creighton.

"And It Rained"...

The Wise Hotel, located in the desert region of the great southwest, was the scene of Armstrong High School's 1936 opsouthwest, "And It Rained." From the opening chorus to the final eretta, "And It Rained." From the opening chorus to the final curtain, the cast, under the capable direction of Mrs. Lindgren, kept the audience under its spell.

The leading characters, comedy parts, singing and dancing choruses were well chosen and performed their roles unusually well. The romantic leads—played by Helen Rickart and Wilson Creighton, Helen Havener and Van Ludwig, the comedy team of Evangeline Berry, Robert Davis, and Lois Blackford, as well as the character roles portrayed by Clinton Funkhouser and Robert Bass all deserve much credit for the splendid way they played their parts.

. . . "Once In A Lifetime"

The Seniors presented as their final school activity the three-act romantic comedy, "Once in a Lifetime", on May 22 and 23. Miss Nichols, the class advisor, directed the play.

The setting of the play was a gypsy camp located near a prominent tourist camp in a large eastern village. The entire action of the play centers around Konrad, a gypsy lad, adopted by a conservative middle-aged couple, and his heroic effort to adjust himself to village life, fighting as he must the Romany blood. This part was capably played by Robert Davis, with Helen Rickart as Laurie, his Yankee sweetheart, and Zara, Margaret Bass, the gypsy girl, who, with her gypsy song, lures him away from his home and almost death at the hands of her gypsy sweetheart, Stan, played by Travis Carder. The comedy roles, played by Lois Blackford and Howard Hardin, added a touch of humor to the poetry and music of the story, while an air of unreality was given the simple plot by the gypsy band, the Daro, Dan Parker, and the Daya, Helen Creighton.

Much credit should also be given Evelyn Johnson and Clinton Funkhouser, Konrad's foster parents; Louise Carlson and Louise Redman, the Daro's daughters, and Billy Johnson, the eccentric writer. Other members of the senior class very capably portrayed members of the gypsy tribe and townspeople of the little eastern village. Theodore Vinson acted as stage manager.

The class also wishes to thank Miss Jean Gilbert, class of 1932, for so graciously giving her time to supply the gypsy music for the production.

The Annual Athletic Banquet, sponsored by the Board of Education, was held in the gymnasium, March 17.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in purple and gold by Miss Hoffman and the members of the Foods Class. Large purple and gold balloons formed the centerpiece and were later given as favors. A delicious menu, carrying out the color scheme of purple and gold, was served by the girls, assisted by freshman and sophomore boys.

Lester Burd, secretary of the board and member of the first graduating class, acted as toastmaster. The principal address of the evening was given by Douglas R. Mills, freshman basketball coach at the University of Illinois.

The athletic letters and awards were presented by Mr. Laurence. The gold, silver, and bronze basketballs given for proficiency in athletic ability, scholarship, and sportsmanship were awarded to Charles Campbell, Francis Adams, and Wayne Stover.

After a split that threatened to see the league disband for a year, the Little Six Baseball conference has become the Little Five and will operate again this year.

The members will be Armstrong, Bismarck, East Lynn, Henning and Rankin. Alvin, the sixth member of the previous Little Six, has been forced to drop baseball this fall because of lack of candidates.

Cissna Park had previously been considered as a sixth member of the conference to take Alvin's place, but the distance to Cissna Park from some of the other schools resulted in the Iroquois County school being omitted from the League.
